Social Media Scams!

Scammers are hiding out on social media, using ads and offers to market their scams, according to people's reports to the FTC and a new Data Spotlight.

Scammers can hide behind phony profiles on social media. They can take over an account or join a virtual community you trust to encourage you to trust them.

But you can make it harder for scammers to target you:

- Review your social media privacy settings and limit what you share publicly.
 - Before you buy based on an ad or post, check out the company. Type its name in a search engine with words like or "scam" or "complaint."
 - If someone appears on your social media and rushes you to start a friendship or romance, slow down. Read about romance scams.
 - If you get a message from a friend about a grant or financial relief, call them. Did they really send that message? If not, their account may have been hacked. Check it out before you act.
- If you spot a scam, report it to the social media site and the FTC at ftc.gov/complaint.
